

Sandcastles

Ballyhoo!

Here comes another day just like the one before
If I'm gonna keep living my life this way
I'll be face down on the floor
Cause I don't wanna see my picture there
Hanging from the wall of shame
I gotta get up before my mind erupts
One day this worlds gonna know my name

Just like a daydream
It feels so amazing
Don't wake me up
Running away from a wasteland
Just to save my heart
It breaks enough
Stand up and fight for yourself son
No ones ever gonna stand up for you

I've got no plan of action
Just a list of things I need
To get that satisfaction
It feels so far from me
I can walk this line
Explore decline until I'm gone
But I am meant for something more
This is not where I belong
