

Saw Her Standing

Ballyhoo!

Saw her standing there, flowers in her hair
When the sun went away, so did she Left me standing here, eyes well up with tears
Drowning me alive in all my fears

Every time I touch your face
All I feel is empty space
I am always chasing you

If you say two words to me
I will not hear what you said
'Cause I can't speak to the dead

When it all goes down, you won't be around
I don't know if I can take it
I'm still holding on

Where did you go?
I'm standing here alone
My body can not move

Sometimes I wish I could cross that bridge to you
And start anew, 'cause I've got nothing left to lose
