

Waiting

Ballyhoo!

You called me up today
You said you need some time
You said you need some space
To straighten out your mind

So now I sit and wait
I try to carry on
Please bring back the days
When there was nothing wrong

So I'll be right here watching the clock
I'm just waiting

So when you think of me
Do you find at night it's hard to fall asleep?
When you say my name
Do you ever wonder if we're both the same?

I lie in bed awake
My mind is stuck on you
How could you throw away
All that we've been through?

You're wasting all this time
The time that we should have
You make me lose my mind
It shouldn't be so bad
