

we're robbing Peter to pay Paul miles and miles yet to go and the pouring rain that hurts me so I'm tired of the rain and I'm tired of all all of the sudden out of the rain you're standing there hitchhiking when I think about the days

I spent without you babe
I spent without your grace you got a tape yeah put it on well if you wanna smoke I'm sharing this one and what you read is exactly what I seek you've got earlobes in the perfect shape' dropping down your pure landscape ever oh for ever ever I am truly loving you now Halloween is here today and in the streets there's party hey you've got monsters goblins trolls and slaves ghosts and zombies from their graves we got such a spooky masquerade we open the door kids run away

when I think about the days
ever I'm truly loving you yes I do

I see pictures of red splotches and patterns of purple green sparkles silvery smears and I'm drifting out to be part of the night and of the day when we talk about elephants carpets and the meaning of life worlds collide
