

The More I Drink

Bananafishbones

The more I drink the less I work said the clerk to the man dressed in pink all my money for your honey and I don't think it's funny at all It is God's sake that You can't fly said the bat to the rat into the night worse than a virus You'd grow and betray us and that's not desired at all the trout denies the fishing fly the fisherman sighs
All that money is gone.
The clerk and I we're friends at night the bat and rat said good bye without a fight the fisherman he tries all his life and that's why his baby died.
The trout denies the fishing fly the fisherman sighs
All that money is gone.
It's like all eyes turn blind.
