Band of Horses

Climb the cliff, Tower over all And falling water, falling waterfall

And after all my plans They melt into the sand Yeah you will be there on my mind through all Don't want to understand why you never get older

It's time to dry off tattered overalls Impatient waiting, Way to hide a fall

And after all my plans They melt into the sand Yeah you will be there on my mind through all Don't want to understand why you never get older

After all my plans They melt into the sand Yeah you will be there on my mind through all Don't want to understand why you never get older

And after all my plans They melt into the sand Yeah you will be there on my mind through all Don't want to understand why you never get older
