Hometowns

Band of Skulls

In hometowns, suburban and transient Romances, just like yours, are bound again, To all you lovers, gather around you, To see what you have become

No acting, while you're here, a lonely road It's just kids having, more kids for Fear of being alone
To all you lovers, gather around you,
To see what you have become

I was looking for the one But I guess you'll do

No acting, while you're here, a lonely road It's just kids having, more kids for Fear of being alone
To all you lovers, gather around you,
To see what you have become

I was looking for the one But I guess you'll do

In hometowns, suburban and transient Romances, just like yours happen again.
