

You're Not Pretty But You Got It Goin' On

Band of Skulls

You're tone deaf but you're singing a song,
You feel lost but you know where you're from
You're not pretty but you got it going on
Your head swims in electric blues
If all fails, you can't lose

You lie low but your cover is blown
You turned on but there's nobody home
You think straight but your mind is not your own
You feedback with the static shock
Your ears ring, your knees knock

I got all that I wanted
I got all that I need
I've got a plan for the future
And that's what I believe but my fingers are cold
She's so old
And I cannot believe that you wanna be here
On your own, in this cradle of love

You're tone deaf but you're singing a song,
You feel lost but you know where you're from
You're not pretty but you got it going on

You're tone deaf but you're singing a song,
You feel lost but you know where you're from
You're not pretty but you got it going on
