

Poltergeist

Banks

I started all of the wars, I started all of the wars
I've been getting messages from my deep waters
I'd be a resentful caretaker
Blame me for your false indicators
You mistaken all my mistakes for my crooked nature

Oh my god, I think I saw a ghost
He follow me everywhere I go
He don't even try to get creative
I smell a clown looking goofy dressed up as a native

Why'd you call me here? You don't even know
Acting like a fool when you mull it over
Make it go away, you won't even know
Baby looking cool smoking on a clover

I started all of the wars, I started all of the wars
I've been getting messages from my deep waters
I'd be a resentful caretaker
Blame me for your false indicators
You mistaken all my mistakes for my crooked nature

Oh my god, I think I saw a ghost
Why you here walking around on my home street?
Pardon me
Cut your shoulder, you've been affected
I smell the chemicals, I don't see miracles
I'm at the pinnacle, you're so material
Oh, did ya get your money?
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

I started all of the wars, I started all of the wars
I've been getting messages from my deep waters
I'd be a resentful caretaker
Blame me for your false indicators
You mistaken all my mistakes for my crooked nature
