Poltergeist

I started all of the wars, I started all of the wars I've been getting messages from my deep waters I'd be a resentful caretaker Blame me for your false indicators You mistaken all my mistakes for my crooked nature

Oh my god, I think I saw a ghost He follow me everywhere I go He don't even try to get creative I smell a clown looking goofy dressed up as a native

Why'd you call me here? You don't even know Acting like a fool when you mull it over Make it go away, you won't even know Baby looking cool smoking on a clover

I started all of the wars, I started all of the wars I've been getting messages from my deep waters I'd be a resentful caretaker Blame me for your false indicators You mistaken all my mistakes for my crooked nature

Oh my god, I think I saw a ghost Why you here walking around on my home street? Pardon me Cut your shoulder, you've been affected I smell the chemicals, I don't see miracles I'm at the pinnacle, you're so material Oh, did ya get your money? Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

I started all of the wars, I started all of the wars I've been getting messages from my deep waters I'd be a resentful caretaker Blame me for your false indicators You mistaken all my mistakes for my crooked nature
