

Division Street

Banner Pilot

If I've had better days then they're hard to remember,
I was stuck in a bender before we met, there wasn't anything.
But I've been on a high since the moment I saw you,
And there's nothing I won't do for you now because you're every thing.

And as we're walking back through these north east streets and
we pass the neon signs,
I see the stars explode and I start to float when you put your hand in mine.

And I won't let go,
This sky can tumble down.
Earthquake can cut the ground,
It won't shake us, hold on tight.
Blue eyes and moon glow,
This world can disappear.
It's just you and me my dear,
No distractions, no red lights.

I know I have my days when I get real dramatic.
I get lost in the static and when you talk I don't hear anythin g.
And I know that there'll be times when we're missing the West C oast
And remembering old ghosts we left behind before Division Stree t.

And as we're walking back through these north east streets and
we pass the neon signs,
I see the stars explode and I start to float when you put your hand in mine.

And I won't let go,
This sky can tumble down.
Earthquake can cut the ground,
It won't shake us, hold on tight.
Blue eyes and moon glow,
This world can disappear.
It's just you and me my dear,
No distractions, no red lights.

And when the morning sun is missing, my heart beats pacific (6x
