

Hanging In A Void

Barcelona

Tonight,
later when the time is right.
Later in the absinthe light,
and the dark moans.

Alone,
only when I'm on my own,
and the smoke gets into my bones,
I come alive.

Breathing slowly
helps me to see what I need to survive.

Take back, take back, everything I heard you say.
You won't decide what chokes my light starting today.
I take back, take back, everything I said I hate.
I will live on without you suffocating me.

Get away,
looking at the mess you made.
Thinking that you're here to stay,
I gave you all control.

I'm going home with my mind and my heart in tow.
Not like the times before, you left me filled with hate.

It's not too late, I still see straight,
it's not too late tonight.

Take back, take back, everything I heard you say.
You won't decide what chokes my light starting today.
I take back, take back, everything I said I hate.
I will live on without you suffocating me.

Hanging in a void, let me go.
I will stay alive, let me go.
Hanging in a void, let me go.
You're choking out my light, let me go!