

Slipping Away

Barcelona

Wait just a little bit more
I feel you cause your breath is burning holes in my door
You love it when there's blood on your tongue and you're ready for war
But wait just a little bit more Take what you came here for
I know you and I know you can't take anymore
You got me with your fingers on my throat and my head on the fl oor
You're taking what you came here for
So this is how I'm slipping away
Yea this is how you want me to play
You know I love it but it's stopping today
I'm slipping away
Oh I think that I should go
My house is burning out of control I know you hate it and you w ant me to stay I'm slipping away
Wait just a little bit more I'm watching as your lips are movin g towards that horn
You're ready but I'm not quite dead and I'm not quite yours
So wait just a little bit more Take what you came here for I'm ready for you flames crawling u p my door
And if you give me just a minute I'll be out on the floor
You're taking what you came here for
So this is how I'm slipping away
Yea this is how you want me to play
You know I love it but it's stopping today I'm slipping away
Oh I think that I should go
My house is burning out of control I know you hate it and you w ant me to stay I'm slipping away
Wait just a little bit more
You hold me like I've never been held before Your spider web is wrapping around my head like a big black hol e
So wait just a little bit more
Take what you came here for I trusted and I promised to believe
, I swore
That you would be the first and the last but I did not know
You take me but you'll take no more
So this is how I'm slipping away
Now this is how you want me to play
You know I love it but it's stopping today I'm slipping away
Oh I think that I should go
My house is burning out of control I know you hate it and you w ant me to stay I'm slipping away
