Lady Loves

Barclay James Harvest

The lady loves, while she may The lady loves, while she may In the pale moonlight, or a sunny day The lady loves, mmm she loves

The lady dreams, while she may The lady dreams, while she may In the pale moonlight, or a sunny day The lady dreams, oh she dreams

She'll take your children by the hand She'll lead them to the promised land Holding hands and singing songs In the smile on her face you just know she can't be wrong

The lady sleeps, while she may The lady sleeps, while she may In the pale moonlight, or a sunny day The lady sleeps, oh she sleeps

She'll take your children by the hand And lead them to the promised land Holding hands and singing songs In the smile on her face you just know she can't be wrong

She'll take your children by the hand And lead them to the promised land Holding hands and singing songs In the smile on her face you just know she can't be wrong She just can't be wrong
