Heartbeat

Barcode Brothers

In the silence of loneliness, in the picture on the wall. Just like what darkness brings, when the rain begins to fall, I can try to find myself in the roof that you can see, That dreams will bring me back, in your arms I wish to be I feel your heartbeat now, I hear your voice ride up receive, In the night I will fight thru the shining stars and bring you back to me I feel your heartbeat now

Now and than I feel to rest? cause my open eyes will see Every place around the world you will find a piece of me. In my sleep, I weak up very easy do you hear my call I will cry to make you hurry, never let me fall. I feel your heartbeat now, I hear your voice ride up receive, In the night I will fight thru the shining stars and bring you back to me I feel your heartbeat now
