

If Love Brings Love

Barnabas

Alone in my thoughts, I wonder
Will it be you and me?
I've followed in shadows forever
Waiting for you to see
My heart is a fountain
Bursting with love it can no longer hide
Fear is the mountain
Crucified dreams if my hope is denied
So if love brings love, then let it
If not, then just forget it
It all depends on you
Awoke before dawn to follow
Any river to the sea
The sound of the waves was hollow
Like the feeling in me
Afraid to tell you
Hope buried deep in an ocean of pride
Would this compel you
To risk it with me, or to cast me aside?
But if love brings love, then let it
If not then just forget it
It all depends on you
Late at night you bring the light
To the backstreets of my mind
But in the daytime I cannot find
The words to make you mine
So if love brings love, then let it
If not, then just forget it
It all depends on you
Alone in the light from your window
Won't you please let me in?
