

Kerosene

Baroness

Climbing up the walls again
A constant spinning wheel
Though I made the same mistake
My love is never enough

Spider-webs radiate
Pale electric blue
And I can feel the morning light
Crashing down on you

You'll take your time
I'll take mine
And I'll wait so...patiently

Drown my love in Kerosene
And in the final hour
Absence told my heart to wander away

Lost too long above the stars
Heard the tether snap
I got so high I'm satisfied
I'm never coming back

You'll take your time
I'll take mine
And I'll wait so...patiently

And in the final hour
Absence told my heart to wander away

When I am done I'll lay in the sun
And when I am done I'll lay in the sun
