Early Morning Strangers

Barry Manilow

Every mornin' many late night lovers Wake up to become early mornin' strangers Things always look different in the light of day Every mornin' many late night lovers Just silently stare, seein' all the changes It's hard to make small talk When there's nothin' to say

Early mornin' strangers Lookin' at each other That is all we are to one another Early mornin' strangers Who wake up to discover It's just no good without love To live without love is no life at all Somewhere baby There's got to be more

Somewhere baby there's a life worth livin' Where nobody takes more than they are givin' Where love is forever Not just for a day

Early mornin' strangers Lookin' at each other That is all we are to one another Early mornin' strangers Who wake up to discover It's just no good without love To live without love is no life at all

Bye bye baby I hope you find your love And I hope I find mine I hope you find your love And I hope I find mine
