Breathe

Basement

Smile, like it was yesterday.

Make me believe that you're the same.

Speak, tell me that you're ok.

I'll keep biting on my tongue.

I am looking at your face, As if we never made mistakes.

Breathe, take in everything. Become a person that I hate.

I am looking at your face, As if we never even made mistakes.

If I close my eyes, for long enough. Would I die, or would I just get lost? You could find me, if you cared enough. But I'm hoping you don't.

If I close my eyes for long enough would I die? I cannot pretend I haven't tried. I am hoping that you don't find me.
