There's A Tear

I wonder if you'll ever know That every day I miss you so Was I wrong to let you go Or maybe you feel just like I do And wonder if I'll ever know That every day you miss me so Why did we let it all fall apart Before it even had a chance to start there's a tear in my eye The other is dry There'll never be a better time Honey, this moment is your life it all started with a dream Then it seemed a hopeless scheme Now I think what could have been You took my panic for indifference But how was I supposed to know That one day I will miss you so I would have fought for you to the end I would have never let you slip away now there's a tear in my eye The other is dry There'll never be a better time Honey, this moment is your life one day Soon I pray You'll look at me again With new eyes And maybe you will find someone to love Something to die for
