Destroyer of Worlds

A flash like the birth of a sun A pillar of virgin fire Now glowing a ruby cloud The finger of death reaching higher

Radiant dust a chimney rise Desert floor dissolved wide ablaze Golden plum against the midnight sky Burning eyes in death clouds ashgrey face

I have harnessed the stars Now unleashed upon the earth I am become death The Destroyer Of Worlds

Encased in lead and steel The end and infinity The eight moon the sixth day the year death The heatwave to grasp and consume your last breath

Brought high on R marked silver wing Afar in cold thin morning air Below as the day begins The burning eyes in deaths face greedily stares

I have harnessed the stars Now unleashed upon the earth I am become death The Destroyer Of Worlds Bathory
