

No More Lies

Battalion of Saints

See it on the front page, the lies that are easily made
They tell you nothing that's real

They keep us going
With their lies and stories
I just can't stand no more, no more lies
They want us stupid, And not asking for the truth
I just can't stand no more, no more lies

He's on the TV, talking to me
Trying to make me believe, I see through his disguise
In his lying eyes, they just can't tell the truth

[Chorus]

You think you're okay, Your life is going great
How come you lie to yourself? Your life is really shit
Who are you trying to impress, who cares about your lies?
