

We Are The Legions

Battlelore

We are the legions of damned
The legions of faith
Together as one we stand
We are the legions of light
The legions of dark
Together we shall arise

We will cast the spell on you
Charm your soul for good
Join us and share the glory
From every battle we ever fight
Side by side we hold the line

We are the legions of doom
The legions of hope
Together we triumph and mourn
We are the legions of all
The legions of gods
Defy our strength and you shall fall

We hold the bridge over the bourn
Wield the keys and guard the gates
We shall reform the laws
Shape the future and the faith

New creation in our order
We set the dawn and the rise again
Night and day, all the seasons
Changes when ever we say

Crush the betrayals, hunt them down
Together we are strong, enough to drown
All the infidels, in their own blood
We are the legions, we are the gods
