

Every Tear I Cry

Bay City Rollers

Don't turn away
When I call to you
Cause I can't take the strain any more
There are times in my life
When I've wanted you
But you turned and walked out through the door
When every move I make is all for your loving sake
And every dream at night
is all trying to keep it right
And every tear I cry is all for the last
Baby the last goodbye
The lights all go down
On this lonely town
Far away I can hear the last train
Makes me think of my home
And you waiting around
And I know that you feel just the same
What you say
Not today
Don't turn away
When I call you
Cause I can't take the strain anymore
Every tear I cry
Every tear I cry
Every tear I cry
