Guardrail

You wanted to know just what makes me tick, I guess I could say that, You and your bullshit, Are pushing me towards an explosion. I guess you're what drives me.

I wish I could ride you, Drive you too fast into a sharp curve, Break your neck like you broke my will, The guardrail will take you home.

I guess you get caught up, In the day-to-day, Drama of being you. To notice me, And what's become of my eyes, The vessels are an angry red, Just like the blood from my lips, as I chew on them.

I wish I could ride you, Drive you too fast into a sharp curve, Break your neck like you broke my will, The guardrail will take you home.

I keep your picture as a reminder, of what I wish I wasnt. It's like a fun house mirror version of myself, through those f ucked up eyes of yours.

I wish I could ride you, Drive you too fast into a sharp curve, Break your neck like you broke my will,

The guardrail, The guardrail, The guardrail, will take you home.
