

I Still Believe

BBMak

When the world had nowhere to run
Or how to hide
I've been watching the world as it passes by
Trying to climb but I just can't find my feet
But I still believe
Doesn't matter what life you lead
Or the love you need
Lost in the world as it passes by
Trying to smile but you just can't hide your tears
Do you still believe

I still believe
That we can live together in a land of broken dreams
I still believe
We can put us together and pray for all our hopes and dreams

Cause I only wanna let you know how I feel Watching the love as it passes by
Trying to smile but I just can't hide my tears
But I still believe

Floating on your own star
They always seems to make you hot
I put it back together once again
Once again
Once again

I still believe
That we can live together in a land of broken dreams
I still believe
We can put us together and pray for all our hopes and dreams
I still believe
That we can live together in a land of broken dreams
I still believe
We can put us together and pray for all our hopes and dreams
Floating on your own star
