

Sooner Or Later

BBMak

I don't understand you have you lost your mind
You've always been a friend of mine
But you're running out of time

Cos I see what she is thinking, it's like she's had enough
Cos you never took the time to show her love
Even when you knew you should

Sooner or later you'll learn
Sooner or later you'll cry
Sooner or later you'll learn
That you can't live a day without her in your life

I can still remeber chasing her around
But the minute that she gave her heart to you
You just threw it on the ground

When the lights have all gone down and the good times disappear

She may not be here when you need her, when you need her
