

Close Your Eyes

Beachwood Sparks

if i were a bird tonight i would fly away up to the sky where clouds would embrace me i would fly quiet only to talk to the wind tell it to carry me to a place that i'd rather be close your eyes to see a better place for you and me imagination set free where we could be better versions of ourselves if i were a whale tonight i would swim away out to the sea where waves would embrace me i would swim quiet only to talk to the sea tell it to carry me to a place that i'd rather be
