

Confusion Is Nothing New

Beachwood Sparks

and when it lands a hold of you it'll tear away the things that come to you don't be afraid, i've lost my way some too tomorrow you could start anew unless hopefulness has lost its way with you don't give in to the things that take away from you and when life is wracked with confusion i've had to go with what i know
