

Always Been You

Bear Mountain

We fell off the track, baby
And you've held all the cards lately
In Arizona, nothing but dirt out in front of me

I left in the night; this could take forever
With the hope in my eyes, say you'll wait for me

I long to keep you in my life
Gotta pull myself together
I'm hitting the road for a while

Honey, it's you
It's always been you
What can I do?
It's always been you
Honey, it's you
It's always been you
What can I do?
It's always been you

She was only just eighteen
Looking pretty and driving down Main Street
California, trying to get home for the summertime

But she stayed in my mind, thinking this could last forever
With the smoke in my eyes as you're pulling away from me

I long to keep you in my life
Gotta pull myself together
I'm hitting the road for a while

Honey, it's you
It's always been you
What can I do?
It's always been you
Honey, it's you
It's always been you
What can I do?
It's always been you
