

Sunrise

I think the rays of light will kill me
Such a frightening state that I'm in It's been too long since I last slept yet it doesn't feel like I'm awake

Looking out through the window, I see Surreal green coloured eyes looking back at me
Maybe just behind my eye lids, who knows
But that's the way the songs goes
That's the way the song goes

I thought that we could never die
It feels so hard to live this lie

You keep on talking but I can't concentrate 'cause I'm listening through my screen of hate
Sunrise
Is it time yet?

And wherever I go, it haunts me and stares me out like a marble of radiant light

I thought that we could never die
It feels so hard to live this lie
