

Shining Star

Bebe Rexha

She was a bad girl, he was a good boy
She played with fire while he played inside the rain
She gets so selfish and he was selfless
He played by books, she never liked to play it safe

But he fell in love with her fucked up ways
With her drunken gaze, yeah, he still stayed
He fell in love with her twisted dreams
And all in between, and he'd still sing

Baby, you're a shining star
I like you just like you are
Baby, you're a shining star
I like you just like you are

Head underwater, no one could save her
She brought the question, yeah, the question like a thing
Her world is crumbling, but she did nothing
She numbs herself so she could never feel a thing

But he fell in love with her fucked up ways
With her drunken gaze, yeah, he still stayed
He fell in love with her twisted dreams
And all in between, and he'd still sing

Baby, you're a shining star
I like you just like you are
Baby, you're a shining star
I like you just like you are

You know you'll always be my baby
Don't cry
You know you're crazy, doesn't phase me
Don't lie
'Cause baby, you're a shining star
I like you just like you are
