Time Takes Its Toll On Us

Bebo Norman

Have I become a soul so numb
All too familiar
Words of gold have all grown cold
Over and over

I need to see you in the sunrise

Time takes its toll on us

And it tries its best just to steal our love

And we bend and we break but we don't give up

Time takes its toll on us

From the start you touched my heart And turned it in to something more Beautiful, you're beautiful So why does it have to be so hard

To see you in the sunrise

Time takes, time takes away Love remains, love remains
