

To Tell You The Truth

Beborn Beton

To tell you the truth. I really do repent with all my heart.
The nights we couldnt stop the fighting.
To tell you the truth, I can't remember when it all began.
But now Im seeking for forgiveness.
Hey, believe me when I say
I curse the day that I left you standing in the doorway.
To tell you the truth, my mind is hooked on you and words you s ay
Are itching in my memory
To tell you the truth,with every touch your hand has to give
My skin begins to shiver
The feelings that I have for you
You doubt them as if they wernt true
And everytime, I prove my love. You judged me from above.
So here I am
I told you the truth. You know you always can rely on me.
Now it's time to show your faith in me.
