

How Will You Know

Becca

You come undone
Secretly I became the one
To be your eyes when everything is bitter
And you just see the lies
How will you know
When you're in the dark
If I'm not around
To show you your heart
Where will you go
To see what is real
If I'm not there
To show you how you feel
How will you know

You run away
Anytime you feel the pain
You scream so loud
I'm the only who hears
you don't make a sound

How will you know
When you're in the dark
If I'm not around
To show you your heart
Where will you go
To see what is real
If I'm not there
to show you how you feel
How will you know
How can I feel when I carry this weight
I know I'm strong but I think I might break but I won't abandon you
It's something I'd never do

How will you know
When you're in the dark
If I'm not around
To show you your heart
Where will you go
To see what is real
If I'm not there
to show you how you feel
How will you know
If you're all alone
Who will be there
to call your own
How will you know
When you're in the dark
If I'm not around
To show you your heart
How will you know
