

Perfect Me

Becca

I am on my own
And I am starving
To call you on the phone

I've sitting here too long
Fighting, fighting
And now I am aggressive

Where have you been,
Hiding from me?
Avoiding me like I'm a sin
But there's so much you don't see

So much for we meant
I don't how I will get over you
You stole my heart so now I'm stealing yours

I used to be everything you want
But now I've gotta chase you in the dark
You never cared about the flaws I flaunt
But now they're tearing us apart

No you're not at liberty
To change the way I'm supposed to be
When did you forget, I' am the perfect me

I crave when you are here
To keep you for me
But somehow you disappear
Because that's how you think sex should be

Losing you is what I fear
But I'm not begging for your love
You on your knees is what I'm thinking of

I used to be everything you want
But now I've gotta chase you in the dark
You never cared about the flaws I flaunt
But now they're tearing us apart

No you're not at liberty
To change the way I'm supposed to be
When did you forget, I' am the perfect me

I don't mean to be obsessive
Though I am so possessive
So why can't you stop running away,
And start learning to behave

Don't you remember when?

I used to be everything you want
But now I've gotta chase you in the dark
You never cared about the flaws I flaunt
But now they're tearing us apart

No you're not at liberty

To change the way I'm supposed to be
I used to be everything you want
I' am the perfect me

I' am the perfect me
