

Beyond Adaptation

Becoming the Archetype

I bear these scars
A constant reminder of my own inadequacy

I've held everything and nothing all at once
And all at once been altogether broken
But even scars fade with time

Only You remain
And my determination is not enough
Even so, I bear these scars