

Dimensions

Bee Gees

Hindsight, don't make it right, she givin' me trouble enough
And she's a ball of light
I'm in the tunnel of love with the American dream
And I'm born too soon

A little good luck, never stuck
She got me climbing the walls, got me hard as a rock
Within a city of sin, she got a city block
And she was barkin' at the moon

She likes to show
So many sides to her and I'd be the one to know

When am I gonna go to your dimension?
When am I gonna go to where you are?
When am I gonna go to your dimension?
Dimensions of each other keep us goin' strong

Black knight take a bite, she can double it up
And she's a way of life
Whether dead or alive, she got a fix on me
And I was dancin' in the fire

A little white steam, never seen in every muscle and bone
She was a love machine
She could wrestle me down and get a taste of me
In her web of desire

She changed my world
How can the body know whether it's touchin' me or her?

When am I gonna go to your dimension?
When am I gonna go to where?
When am I gonna go to where you are?
When am I gonna go to your dimension?
Dimensions of each other keep us goin' strong

When am I gonna go to your dimension?
When am I gonna go to where?
When am I gonna go to where you are?
When am I gonna go to your dimension?
Dimensions of each other keep us goin' strong

When am I gonna go to your dimension?
When am I gonna go to where
When am I gonna go to where you are?
When am I gonna go to your dimension?
Dimensions of each other keep us goin' strong

When am I gonna go to your dimension?
When am I gonna go to where?
When am I gonna go to where you are?
When am I gonna go to your dimension?
Dimensions of each other keep us goin' strong
