I Still Love You

Close your eyes do what you wanna Baby how can I wait much longer Make it hard to believe it happened to me Morning comes too late tomorrow All you lose is the dream you borrow All you got is a soul that's born to be free and cries to the wind Waiting for you My dream will find you someday I stand beside my vision of you And have you loving me

I still love you (Ah...) I still love you (Ah.)

Though you're my imagination You be there when we find salvation Only then will there be no reason to hide Stormy night out in the heaven I believe in the true forever There's a bright new star when somebody dies I cry to the wind Waiting for you Sweet love returning someday The day you learn love happened to you You will be here with me

I still love you (Ah...) I still love you (Ah.)

I'll be waiting for you
Sweet love returning someday
The day you learn love happened to you
You will be here with me
I still love you
(Ah.)
I still love you
(Ah.)
I still love you
