Portrait of Louise

Summers come and summers go But I still need the rain All your vines will overgrow and winds will blow insane

But I'm not goin' to move And I won't make you cry You can shelter in my home And I won't ask you why

Friends will come and friends will go But you stay on my train All your wines will overflow As winds will blow insane

But I'm not goin' to move And I won't make you cry You can shelter in my home And I won't ask you why You can shelter in my home And I won't ask you why
