

Revenge

Before Their Eyes

I've held these words on the back of my tongue for far too long
Where do you turn when your whole world's gone

I get shot to the bottom
Am I on my own?
They'll try to bash on me
Help me find my way home

It's too late, I'm too late
It's clear you've given up on me
You've given up all hope
Given up on what we used to be

When I'm surrounded
My back against the wall it's you
I know you'll never be there
When I need a helping hand

All along you've said the same words
I guess forever was just a lie

It's keeping me awake
The way you bend and break
You never hesitate
My mind's gone six feet under (the ground)

When I'm surrounded
My back against the wall it's you
I know you'll never be there
When I need a helping hand

I just thought you should know
I've reached an all time low
My mind is barely breathing
'Cause getting even's all I've ever known

Tell me you're right there

I can't fight feeling's of hate
For somebody who didn't care
I watched her everywhere

When I'm surrounded
My back against the wall it's you
I know you'll never be there
When I need a helping hand

I just thought you should know
I've reached an all time low
My mind is barely breathing
'Cause getting even's all I've ever known
