

The Best Thing

Before You Exit

Sometimes she can be unpredictable,
like an earthquake suddenly out of control.
A sweet disaster dancing in the parking lot.
I know she's special, but inside she thinks she's not.

Maybe someday,
some way she'll see.

She's the best thing,
best thing that has ever happened to me-eh.
I know we'll make it through if we belie-ieve.
She'll see I always want her to be,
right here next to me.

When she smiles I don't know what is left from right.
Plaid shirt, mini skirt, that's what makes her fine.
She breathes out, I breathe in. It's a perfect fit.
She blows my mind and she doesn't even know it.

Maybe someday,
some way she'll see.

She's the best thing,
best thing that has ever happened to me-eh.
I know we'll make it through if we belie-ieve.
She'll see I always want her to be,
right here next to me.

I know she's a gamble,
and I'm falling all in.
Call me crazy in love,
but she's worth taking the risk.

On my way to believing it all and all.

She's the best thing,
best thing that has ever happened to me-eh.
She's the best thing,
best thing that has ever happened to me-eh.
I know we'll make it through if we belie-ieve.
She'll see I always want her to be,
right here next to me.

She's the best thing,
best thing that has ever happened to me-eh.
I know we'll make it through if we belie-ieve.
She'll see I always want her to be,
right here next to me.

Sometimes she can be unpredictable,
like an earthquake suddenly out of control.
