

Fighting For Our Lives

Behind Crimson Eyes

We're fighting for our lives tonight

If only we could stay
We're drawing closer to the light

But there's so much more to say
Do you remember the time in your mind when this first made sense?

Did you decipher the signs in your life as you realise what it means to live?

If you look me in the eyes one more time
I'm sure you'll find all the answers That you've been searching for

We're fighting for our lives tonight
If only we could stay

We're drawing closer to the light
But there's so much more to say

So we'll hold on, just hold on It's not over yet
Hold on, just hold on It's not over yet

Would you make up your mind and decide what comes next?

I can see in your eyes that you'll die living for what you believe

Let's roll the dice one more time yeah just to find

We already knew the answers before
So here we are with our backs against the wall
And no way out, no way out
