

Always

Bella Morte

And the night shall cry
For her heart belongs to day
And the tears she knows
Shall not fade
And so winds will speak his name
Whispered soft and carried far
To a place where dreams
Find their deaths amongst the stars

Time will never fade
Will I never see your face
In the light of years
Free from evening's sorrow
Let this pendant hold your gaze
Comfort lies within
Memories of our times gone

Careless words were spent
Careless arms once held you near
Have I always known
This would be our end?
Snow obscures the earth
Just as time obscures the past
Details fade away
Visions fill the sky with ash

Fall away

Her faded fears fall through the night
To find me where I lay
Through the years we wandered
Through the darkest days
Her faded sight
In her eyes I'll never follow
Fall into my arms again and say
Never go away
Never fade away
Her crystal tears, I never needed more
So fall into my arms again my friend
