

Bleed Again

Bella Morte

Hear the thunder roll
From far away within the growing storm
Scars I can't mend
Will open and bleed again
The years of hurt
Are gone and yet still they live
And breathe this pain
As waves of death crash inside

I live within
And all you see is dead
And every day I'm losing more and more
I'll open up my skin again
So everyone can see
What's inside of me

Hear the storm draw near
There is no shelter from the coming rain
That falls like knives
Like something I won't relive
Not now, not then
The past and the future blend
To reveal the rage
And I must release what's inside