Can't let this die

Bella Morte

Fell in disgrace, watched as the shadows passed Silent and black as buried guilt, six feet below me And who's to say that another day will come? To bring the seperate together Can't let you go, can't let this...

Die I can feel your eyes from far away And i can't let this die So surreal, the stars above me sway All through the night into the day

Once lost, once found, once everything to me Lines crossed, too far to count the cost of all this bleeding And who's to say that another day will come? To bring the seperate together Can't let you go, can't let this...

I will watch the days And know that you are mine from afar Just out of reach

I will wait this time And know that this all ends in sin Can't let you go, can't let this...