

Neon Cowboy

Bellamy Brothers

Driving along on that endless road

just headin' for the silver sky.
Rolling along to a brand new song
dreamin' up another lie.

Through mountains in to canyons where rivers run below.
Still movin' down that highway lookin' for a place to go.

'Cause I'm a Neon Cowboy and I'm a ridin' that freedom road.
A neon cowboy and your tears are my only load.
Always lookin' for that rainbow where ever I may roam

a Neon Cowboy's always comin' home.

I watch T.V. in my motel room
till I lose the light of day.
Then I slip into a six pack dream and drink the night away.

The city lights are flashin' and I'm starin' at the phone

but it's much late for callin' feelin' like I'm far too gone.

'Cause I'm a Neon Cowboy and I'm a ridin' that freedom road.
A neon cowboy and your tears are my only load.
Always lookin' for that rainbow where ever I may roam

a Neon Cowboy's always comin' home.

I'm a Neon Cowboy and I'm a ridin' that freedom road.
A neon cowboy and your tears are my only load.
Far beyond the blue horizon where ever I may roam

your Neon Cowboy's always on the run.

I'm a Neon Cowboy and I'm out on this road alone.
A neon cowboy in my heart I can feel your song.
I'm still look in for that rainbow where ever I may roam

your Neon Cowboy's always on the run.
