

Early Retirement

Belvedere

There's nothing now just sit and stare
While lying on his rocking chair
Just waiting for it to be over
There was a time back
When he's carried all that brought on him
And put it on his shoulder