

I want to sail with you,
heart I put into your arms,
loyalty to everything I ask for love on my back.
Black darkness, to the limit of your powers,
you were always there when I was afraid to go, after you.

I want my son had the same eye color,
I want my daughter had her voice.
I want to understand that it revolves around
my world and it can happen to anyone of you.
I must not fear,
give yourself half.
I want to be with you
on the edge of the world go

With you sail,
all your desires known.
In your dreams brawling,
I'll be behind you.
Black darkness, I went farther than I have,
can not make himself to be,
I need a hug.

I want my daughter had the same eye color,
I want my son to have his voice.
I want to understand that it revolves around
my world and it can happen to anyone of you.
I must not fear,
give yourself half.
I want to be with you,
on the edge of the world go.
I must not fear,
give yourself half.

In the darkest dreams you have returned my breath,
Despite the bad time he was my support,
really want to give you whatever you wish,
what I've got the best of what I know.

In the darkest dreams you have returned my breath,
Despite the bad time he was my support,
really want to give you whatever you wish,
what I've got the best of what I know.

I must not fear,
give yourself half.
I want to be with you,
on the edge of the world go.
