

That's When It Hurts

Ben E. King

That's when it hurts
Yeah, oh, oh, yeah
That's when it hurts, ooh

You don't kiss me like you used to do
You don't miss me, darling
Darling, darling, darling when the night is through
So I sit at home turn off the light, here comes the night

That's when it hurts?

I'm going downtown to Joey's place and I know that, darling
I'm gonna walk right in and I'll see your face
Yes, you'll be dancing with someone new, here comes the pain

That's when it hurts?

Then you're gonna see me sitting all alone, baby, at a corner table
And I'll be sitting there smiling, honey,
Sitting over there somewhere by myself
Smoking a cigarette
Then you're gonna feel that you'll have to come over
And say something real nice to me
Oh, baby, that's when my eyes will get wet

Then I'll walk out the door and I'll walk a-back home
Take the same street that we used to take when we walked alone
Then I'll see your friends all pitying me
Whoa, their sympathy

That's when it hurts
Oh, oh, oh, yeah
That's when it hurts
Yeah, yeah
It hurts, it hurts, oh, yeah
That's when it hurts
Oh, oh, oh, yeah
That's when it hurts
Yeah, yeah
It hurts, it hurts, oh, yeah
